

RELIEF WORK IN STRICKEN TERRITORY UNDER WAY

DESOLATION, DESTRUCTION, DEATH THERE

Organized Relief Work in Stricken Cities and Towns Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Murphysboro, Ill., March 20.—With cessation of first frenzied efforts to relieve the suffering, to count the dead and to estimate damage yesterday, that followed the most disastrous tornado recorded in this section, organized relief work today went forward quietly with system and dispatch.

But death, injury and destruction remained; the aftermath of the twister which swept up from the Ozark foothills, touched southeastern Missouri, tore through the heart of southern Illinois' rich coal fields, dotted with prosperous cities and towns and spent its fury in Indiana.

Benton, McLeansboro, Logan, Parrish and De Soto today shared a common sorrow, each having suffered heavy losses in the ranks of its citizens.

Many Children Killed
De Soto, perhaps, sustained the most tragic loss, it being estimated that one-third of its dead were children under the age of three years.

Seven persons were killed, sixty more or less seriously injured, eight unaccounted for and 150 made homeless in De Soto, a small town, the injured of which were transported to a hospital at Herrin.

The list of known dead here has climbed to 175, it was announced by authorities. Injured are placed at well over 400.

Twenty-five injured persons left this morning for hospitals in East St. Louis.

The number of dead, given last night as 145 will be increased today by official check on all morgues, authorities said.

Estimates of the total number of dead here are generally placed at from 175 to 250.

Fire in Several of the Burned Shops
Fire in several of the burned shops has prevented workers from exploring ruins. The ruins of the Mobile & Ohio shops are expected to yield the bodies of from 6 to 20 men according to relief workers.

Homes which burned after the tornado had not been completely searched. Bodies which are burned beyond recognition will be buried today.

Gorham, Akin and Grayville missed the direct wrath of the twister, but, lashed by lighter furies, the three little towns also made sacrifices to the elements. Approximate figures placed the dead at: Gorham 2; Grayville, 4 and Akin, 6.

The banks of the Big Muddy river near Carbondale are littered with debris.

Relief Work Functions
Breaking out a few minutes after the tornado struck Wednesday afternoon, fire completed the work begun by wind and today only charred embers remained where two days ago had stood quiet homes and dwelling places. The swath cut by the tornado was plainly evident, going from Murphysboro on to Herrin and Ziegler.

Relief machinery, hastily set in motion Wednesday night was functioning smoothly today.

Plans for burial of the dead were being completed and a gradual recovery was probable.

George L. Chapman of Polo Victim of Apoplexy
(Telegraph Special Service)

Polo, March 20.—George L. Chapman, aged 50, a native of Polo, and a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. George L. Chapman, passed away at 5:30 o'clock Thursday evening, death resulting from apoplexy with which he was stricken at 10:30 Thursday morning. Funeral arrangements cannot be made pending word from a brother Harry, of Enterprise, Oregon, who with one sister, Mrs. Lura Schroeder of Kenosha, Wis., survive.

Pastors of Two Paw Paw Churches Resigned Pulpits

Rev. R. D. Walter, pastor of the Baptist church at Paw Paw for two years, has resigned to accept a call to the First Baptist church at Sycamore.

Rev. H. J. Bray, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Paw Paw has also resigned to accept a call to the Prospect Avenue Presbyterian church of Kansas City, Mo. Mr. Bray's salary was set at $3600. He will preach his farewell sermon in Paw Paw, Sunday, March 22.

Baker is Making Good.

Among the reports of Dixon people who are "making good" in other localities comes one about Stanley Baker, who is now located in Miami, Fla. Mr. Baker is said to have cleared about $75,000 in the past six years in that city, where it is claimed $80,000.00 was spent in building improvements last year. Mr. Baker has just completed a fine residence on River Drive in Miami.

Tibbits is in Charge of U. of C. Campaign

Miss Cora E. Miller, whom the University of Chicago announced had been named to head the Lee county drive for that institution, as published in last evening's Telegraph, stated today that she had been merely in temporary charge here, and that L. H. Tibbits of the Better Pains Society was now directing the local work.

PRESBYTERIANS TO STAGE EVERY MEMBER CANVASS

Annual Budget Work to be Done Sunday Afternoon

The First Presbyterian church of this city is planning a big day for Sunday. In the morning there is to be a special service at which the budget for the coming year will be explained and also the plans for taking care of the church debt. No subscriptions will be asked for at this service the idea being wholly educational. At this service also there will be the consecration to their task of the forty men who will go out in the afternoon on the Every Member Canvass from 2:30 till 4.

In the afternoon the teams will visit every Presbyterian family in the city and secure their subscriptions for the coming year.

Then in the evening there is to be a service which is expected to fill the church to overflowing and Mrs. Allen, formerly Miss Friday of the Old Dix on College, is to read "Barrabas." This is the masterpiece of the great writer, Marie Corelli and is not only a wonderful story but a marvelous sermon as well. Mrs. Allen has given this reading as a Lyceum and Chautauqua number for years and has received the highest praise from the press of the entire country.

Mrs. Allen is coming to Dixon under the auspices of the Dixon College Alumni Association and at the close of the service an opportunity will be given for her old friends to welcome and talk with her.

V. H. Thompson of the Credit Assurance Co. of the United States has come to Dixon to reside and with his family is located at 204 N. Chamberlain street.

Attorney John Erwin, who has been ill, is reported better today.

Claim Giving Typhoid Germs is Not Murder

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Mar. 20.—Attorneys for William D. Shepherd, held on an indictment charging him with the killing of his foster-son, William Nelson McClintock, "millionaire orphan" by typhoid germs, prepared today for a fight to obtain his release on bail at his preliminary hearing tomorrow.

William S. Stewart, defense counsel, outlining arguments, said he would endeavor to show that killing a man by giving him typhoid germs is not murder under Illinois law.

Stewart attorneys said they would oppose the defense line of reasoning on the ground that if it were allowed to stand it would permit murder by any means not mentioned in the law.

CHICAGOAN ARRESTED HERE

F. H. Hanlon of Chicago was taken in custody at a local hotel early this morning by Officer Lenox at the request of Rockford police authorities. The Rockford authorities requested that Hanlon be arrested and held on a warrant charging him with defrauding an lun keeper in that city.

SUPPLIES AND MONEY SOUGHT FOR STRICKEN

Radio, Newspaper and Lodges Start Move for Relief

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Mar. 20.—Chicago today extended its efforts to obtain money and supplies for relief in the area stricken in Wednesday's tornado.

A half million dollar drive was launched by an executive committee named by Mayor Dever and headed by William H. Davies, brother of the Vice President.

Trains which left throughout the night and today carried food and clothing, medical supplies, thousands of yards of wire to repair telephone lines, tents and bedding. Scores of physicians and hundreds of nurses left yesterday.

Individual contributions for relief continued today to pour into Red Cross headquarters, newspapers, radio stations and other agencies collecting funds. Thomas Temple Red Cross

James A. Cullley, aged 65, was the second pneumonia victim of the day at the Dixon state hospital, passing away at 5:25 last evening. His remains will be sent to relatives at Ava, Ill., where the funeral will be held and interment will be made.

Freaks of Storm as Seen by A. P. Writers on Scene

By Associated Press Leased Wire
West Frankfort, Ill., Mar. 20.—Many wind freaks were reported at Fairfield, 50 miles northeast, which left death and destruction in its wake.

Murphysboro tax receipts of Wednesday were picked up at Fairfield, 50 miles northeast, which left death and destruction in its wake.

A frame building of the West Frankfort water plant was left standing untouched while large trees on all sides were snapped off or torn up by the roots.

Hundreds of automobiles here had their tops blown off, were hurled upside down or demolished.

Most of a tin can dump was picked up from one side of the West Frankfort-Benton highway and transferred to the other side.

A grove of trees near here reminded observers of the family wash day because of the articles of clothing stretched on the limbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bell and their two children were in their home when the tornado struck.

"We just hung on to the table," Bell said. "The house was lifted off the foundation and bumped down again. We were not hurt."

In another section a woman of foreign birth was found crushed and screaming. She pointed to a mass of ruins nearby. A rescue worker uncovered a baby buggy. The woman's five day old baby was inside the buggy unhurt.

Alfred Lightner, one of the most efficient of the Evening Telegraph carrier force, was the victim of a painful accident shortly after the noon hour yesterday, while on his way to the E. C. Smith school and near the Illinois Central depot on Seventh street. He was riding his bicycle and coasting down the incline when a dog ran in front of him. He was thrown from his bicycle into the street cutting and bruising both hands. He was taken to a physician's office and given medical treatment, but is still suffering considerable pain.

Movie Stars in Benefit for Children's Hospital
Mrs. Hugh Senneff, of Ocala, Fla., who is visiting at the home of her parents in this city, has received a copy of the Ocala Evening Star in which a lengthy article tells of a recent benefit given by prominent motion picture stars who are filming a play in that locality. Thomas Meighan and Miss Lila Lee with the Famous Players Lasky Company are filming a new play, "Old Home Week" near Ocala and sponsored a benefit for the children's ward of the Ocala hospital which is now under construction. Miss Lee said dances and a sum of about $600 was realized from this feature alone. More than $2,000 was raised by a ball which was given by the members of the motion picture company all of which was turned over to the hospital fund.

Infant Taken from Home.
The funeral services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Poffenberger, who reside west of Dixon on the Trunkett farm, were held yesterday morning at 9 o'clock with burial in the Emmert cemetery.

FAKE STORY OF HOLD-UP EAST OF DIXON WAS TOLD

Young Man Told Wild Story to DeKalb Policemen

DeKalb.—Telling a story in which he claimed he had been held up and robbed of his auto, money and everything but his nerve, a young man giving his name as David Joyce of South Bend, Indiana, Tuesday evening tried to work this community for charity. His pipe-dream was quickly blasted at the police station where he was taken by a patrolman who thought that the police might assist the young man in locating his stolen auto and other belongings.

His story, as told to the police, was that he had been robbed of his car and money when about three miles east of Dixon on the Lincoln Highway. He also said that he had made a report of the theft to the Dixon police. Desk Sergeant Wes Conclined, doubting the story from the first, called the Dixon police, and the report came back that no such robbery had been reported. When last seen the young man was making tracks for another city, where luck might be better.

RED CROSS IS CALLED TO AID IN MANY PLACES

Demands from Midwest, Japan, Peru, China Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, March 20.—Relief machinery of the American Red Cross was in full motion today in behalf of injured and homeless in the tornado wrecked section of the Midwest. It stood ready to carry out its offer of aid for the sufferers from fire at Tokio and of flood at Trujillo, Peru.

A party of trained disaster relief workers mobilized at Red Cross headquarters yesterday were due to arrive in Princeton, Ind., today. They will join other workers in operation under direction of Henry E. Baker, national director of disaster relief.

Mr. Baker is giving his attention primarily to the situation in the Indiana area. He also is keeping in touch with relief operations continuing at the scene of the Fairmont, West Virginia, mine disaster.

EARTHQUAKE IN CHINA

Shanghai, March 20.—(By The Associated Press)—The China inland mission, Reuters Agency says, has received a telegram dated March 19 stating that an earthquake has destroyed Taiifu, a town in western Yunnan Province. A disastrous fire followed and help is urgently needed, the message says. Foreigners in the neighborhood are safe.

Five Children Taken from Steward Parents

Judge William A. Biddget in the county court yesterday afternoon is expected to declare five of the six children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Halte of Steward delinquent and sending them to a private home at Geneva, Ill. Supervisor Andrew Nicholson and several prominent citizens of Steward were present in the court room, the supervisor testifying as to the deplorable conditions existing in the Halte home at Steward.

It was alleged that five of the children slept in one bed in an attic during the winter without bed clothing. The children who ranged in ages from two to eight years wearing their clothing in bed to keep warm. The father, who recently served a sentence in the county jail for violation of the liquor laws, was ordered to contribute $25 monthly toward the support of the five children, who were temporarily taken from their parents and placed in the private home in Geneva.

Biddget at the request of the mother, permitted the baby, two years of age to remain in her custody, provided that living conditions at the Halte home be improved immediately.

CARRIER BOY INJURED

Alfred Lightner, one of the most efficient of the Evening Telegraph carrier force, was the victim of a painful accident shortly after the noon hour yesterday, while on his way to the E. C. Smith school and near the Illinois Central depot on Seventh street. He was riding his bicycle and coasting down the incline when a dog ran in front of him. He was thrown from his bicycle into the street cutting and bruising both hands. He was taken to a physician's office and given medical treatment, but is still suffering considerable pain.

The child was one year, eight months and eighteen days of age. Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at DeWitt cemetery where interment will be made.

TOTAL OF 815 DEAD AT NOON; 3000 INJURED

Devastated Regions Turn to Plans of Burying Dead Today

A few hamlets in Missouri yet unreported. Casualty list at 15 dead. Dead at Murphysboro, Ill., climbing to previous estimates. One hundred and seventy five known.

West Frankfort, Ill., deaths increased to 110. Deaths in other cities unchanged in numbers.

All bodies recovered at Princeton, Ind., and most of them at Owensville. Passable roads making rescue and relief work more expeditious. Property loss Indiana towns estimated three or four million dollars.

Devastated regions turning to plans and means of burying their dead. Shortage of coffins and facilities may cause group burials.

Relief workers report better progress in caring for injured and destitute. Contributions flowing into the districts providing money and comforts. As they became better organized, attention was given to rural communities.

All business in Murphysboro suspended. Banks urged to keep doors closed.

Herrin, Illinois, just south of blasted storm strip, opened its one hospital to injured.

Estimated that more than one third of the nearly 120 dead at DeSoto, Ill., were children under three years.

A violent snow storm fringed the tornado on the north when it struck Wednesday.

Weather bureau predicts freezing or above in the devastated region tonight; much colder tomorrow.

King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Mussolini of Italy and acting President Simons of Germany called condolences to the United States.

"A greenish black funnel, slanting at an angle of 45 degrees followed by a deluge of hail," was the description of one thankful survivor. "Black as midnight, moving faster than a train," was another.

At West Frankfort a five day old infant, squalling in a perambulator, was pulled safely from a pile of kindling that had been a home. The mother nearly lay crushed.

The number of frightful mutilations and crushed limbs and the fact that in many cases wounds ground full of dirt could not be attended for hours brought the specter of tetanus stalking on the field. Airplanes bearing all available tetanus anti-toxin rushed out of Indianapolis. Women at DeSoto took up a collection along the line of automobiles attracted to the scene and in a short time had raised several thousand dollars.

Contributions in money and supplies made directly at the response of appeals made over the radio apparently will set a new high total through this means of reaching the world. Radio has been employed in nearly all relief measures.

Chicago, March 20.—(By The Associated Press)—The little group of ten or twelve neighboring towns in southern Illinois which paid in mortality more heavily than any in Wednesday's tornado, with daylight today began again the task of removing and preparing their dead for burial and take inventory of their few material remains.

Their total loss of life would exceed 500 still seemed evident. Into what figure their injured would run was as problematical as what sums would cover their losses in homes, business buildings and industrial plants.

Murphysboro, West Frankfort, De Soto, Gorham and Benton, Bush, McLeansboro, Logan, Parrish and Enfield, all in a section covered by 60 or 75 miles, each was digging out from its catastrophe. In between them were a few other hamlets which also wear the black band of mourning.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Mar. 20.—Still prostrated, but with the hurried efforts at temporary relief supplemented by the arrival of trained workers, supplies and medicines, the storm stricken area of the Ohio Valley today continued to count the terrible loss in life and property of its greatest tornado catastrophe.

Casualty lists indicated little change from the first tentative estimates as Wednesday's twister plowed its erratic and destructive course into five midwestern states.

Fairly systematic checking in 35 cities and towns in the storm's path indicated a death list of between 800 and 900 with approximately 2,000 injured and many thousands homeless.

A check of the devastated areas has not progressed far enough to permit even a rough estimate of property losses, though sums of millions were mentioned from many points.

was provided by Professor H. J. Cox, government forecaster at Chicago who called it a typical midwest storm which originated over the Gulf of Lower California, he said, passed harmlessly over Colorado, dipped to Arkansas and then took a path of least resistance along the Ohio Valley. It soon then rushed off in the direction of Iceland.
Professor Cox explained that in the spring the sun heats the air in certain regions causing warm whirling currents, which strike colder air masses from the north. The result is a great circular movement of the air over a large area, called a cyclone. Tornadoes, varying from a mile to five miles in length, are produced by the cyclone and cause damage by their violent movement.
Sporadic reports of the storm's course after its five hour dip to earth from eastern Missouri to western Indiana came yesterday and last night from Great Lakes ports. Some damage to shipping and property was reported near Buffalo. The tornado struck near Chicago, near the St. Lawrence valley to the Atlantic coast, dissipating as it went.
Hospitals overflowing
As relief measures got under way, stories of the havoc wrought by the misery in the storm swept area, came in from all points. Temporary morgues and hospitals were filled to overflowing while frantic men, women and children searched the lines of dead for missing ones. In some instances doctors performed major operations out of doors or in makeshift buildings without anesthetics. Paralysis of gas, high and water facilities in some towns added to the discomfort and confusion and through a second night of horror, workers, with only candles and lanterns to guide their efforts, worked to clear the streets of the dead. No food shortage exists however, the Red Cross announced. In southern Illinois where terrific havoc was wrought in four towns, Murphysboro, West Frankfort, DeSoto and Gorham, a coal mining territory within a 25 mile radius of Carbondale, the relief center, the toll of dead and injured continued to mount today as additional bodies were taken from the ruins. The death list was above the 500 mark while between 2,000 and 3,000 were injured and thousands were homeless. Relief workers feared the loss of life might reach 1,000. Property damage in the area was estimated at $7,000,000.
There the disaster fell largely on persons of means, who had no work because of the shutdown of coal fields. Many women and children and a score of babies appeared on the death list. Entire families were wiped out.
Many Bodies Mangled.
Many of the bodies were mangled, scorched or burned, some beyond recognition.
The government, Red Cross, private institutions and individuals combined in the huge task of caring for the injured, giving shelter and hunting bodies, while additional workers and state troops were called in to help were due today. Funeral plans had not been made but it is expected that multiple services would be held.
In Murphysboro where 147 bodies had been recovered up to last night, 8,000 persons, or two-thirds of the population were homeless. One hundred city blocks were demolished there and the power plant wrecked. Seventeen students were killed in the school buildings.
Forty five bodies had been recovered at DeSoto which virtually was obliterated. More than a dozen other Illinois towns reported from 1 to 40 deaths. A DeSoto woman with a boy in her arms was blown to the top of a tree where she clung until the storm passed and then descended virtually without injury.
Hail Followed Wind.
Witnesses said the towns in the storm's path were wrecked in a few minutes. One described the deadly snow as a greenish-black fog, slanting at an angle of 45 degrees. A deluge of hail followed.
A committee from the state legislature visited the stricken area yesterday and tomorrow. The committee toured the district, was expected at Carbondale today to aid in directing relief measures. Seven hundred and fifty tubs of anti-tetanus serum, the most available supply at Indianapolis, was being rushed to Carbondale and Murphysboro.
In Indiana the relief measures also were going forward rapidly under the direction of Governor Jackson. Of five towns struck in that state, Griffin, a Posey County village, suffered most. With 47 bodies recovered it was believed the death toll might mount to 125. Griffin virtually was wiped out and systematic work at rescue was held up for a time because few were left uninjured in the village. Military lines have been drawn about the entire area.
At Princeton, which counted 20 dead, the $2,000,000 shops of the Southern Railway were destroyed, throwing 400 persons out of work. Most of the homes destroyed were those of working men. The loss of life undoubtedly would have been larger had it not been for the fact that workers left the shops just a few minutes before the twister struck. The second largest industrial plant in Princeton also was destroyed.
Recent deaths of storm
An exceedingly unusual storm was revealed in the case of E. F. Shiner.

Van Gordon Singer Exceptional Ability

The concluding number in the course presented by the Dixon Civic Music Association was given at the Family Theater last evening and proved to be one of the most enjoyable and artistic of the entertainments given. Cyrena Van Gordon, prima donna contralto of the Chicago Civic Opera Co. was the attraction for the evening, and she was greeted by a large and appreciative audience. Preceding the concert, Father G. Carlotti, pastor of the St. Paul's church, presented, telling something of the aims of the association in their efforts to present the highest and best in music to the people of Dixon. The association is now established in Dixon and is growing all the time.
Possessed of unusual beauty, of regal bearing, and a charming stage presence, Van Gordon, in a gorgeous evening gown, quite won the hearts of everyone present. Her voice, with the witchery of her voice made all forget the passing of time. At the conclusion of the program the audience was loath to have her go. One of her most charming attributes is her natural and gracious demure. Greatness is always simple, never ostentatious. She received the ovation given her after time with modesty and sweetness.
Van Gordon is most versatile, as proved in her familiarity with such positions of widely varied characteristics as may be seen from the program rendered. Her voice of exceedingly pure and resonant timbre, holds great sweetness in the higher notes and richness and power in the lower notes. Her tone in all the ranges from the lower to the higher tones, is well sustained and even. She sings with much expression, and dramatic fire when necessary, as evidenced in her powerful rendition of "The Cry of the Valkyrie" by Wagner; a selection rarely attempted because few singers are able to sing it as a true Brunhilde would sing it. That was the beautiful memory she left with her hearers, Brunhilde singing on the eve of battle, singing as a wild, free bird sings. In her encores with which she was most generous she sang sweetly some of the lighter songs dear to the American heart, such as Victor Herbert's "A Kiss in the Dark," "Comin' Thru the Rye" and once when encores time after time, she sat down at the piano and softly playing her own accompaniment, sang "From the Land of the Sky Blue Way," so tenderly, sweetly, that it brought tears to the eyes.
Miss Van Gordon received some beautiful flowers from friends over the footlights.
"The Lorelei" was a favorite with some, but it is difficult to single out exceptional selections of merit as she sang each one so beautifully. She was happy in the selection of a fine artist as her accompanist, Alma Putnam, who received her share of applause, Van Gordon graciously bringing her to the footlights at the conclusion of a difficult number, in response to the hearty applause.
Following is the program which gave such exquisite pleasure:
Aria—L'abborrita rivale ("Aida")—Verdi.
The Lorelei—Liszt.
I Lie Awake Dedicated to Miss Gordon—Kathryn Whitfield.
I List the Thrill in Golden Throat ("Natoma")—Victor Herbert.
L'heure de poudriere—Augusta Holmes.
Ten Yeux—Debussy.
L'heure exquise—Poldowski.
Le treffe a quatre feuilles—Leor-mand.
The Old Road—John Prindle Scott.
Doushka—Henry Hadley.
In the Steps—Grotcheninoff.
Floods of Spring—Rachmaninoff.
The Cry of the Valkyrie ("The Valkyrie")—Wagner.
Alma Putnam—Accompanist.

Was Pleasantly Surprised Monday

Miss Lois Breimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Breimer was happily surprised on Monday evening at her home, by a large company of relatives and friends, the party being planned by Mrs. Breimer, honoring her daughter's birthday, which occurred on Saturday.
Games and music and dancing filled the merry evening hours and Miss Lois received a number of gifts in memory of the pleasant occasion.
Mrs. Frances Hagonboon of Ottawa, Ill., grandmother of Miss Breimer, arrived in Dixon to be present at the party.

To Give Program of Excellent Music

On Sunday evening at the Christian church, under the direction of Louis Leydig, a program of music will be given of much interest to all and especially to the ones interested in the Music Memory contest being sponsored by the Dixon Civic Music Association. The program will be presented in the evening, and she was greeted by a large and appreciative audience. Preceding the concert, Father G. Carlotti, pastor of the St. Paul's church, presented, telling something of the aims of the association in their efforts to present the highest and best in music to the people of Dixon. The association is now established in Dixon and is growing all the time.

Helpful Hair Hints

A leading hair dresser says—"I have found nothing as good as Parisian Sage to make the hair wavy, soft and lustrous and to make it grow abundant and beautiful." Remember the name—Parisian Sage—best for the hair and scalp. It's guaranteed. Rowland's Pharmacy, Dixon, and Rochelle and all druggists sell it.—Adv.

an engineer of the Southern Railroad, who rode his engine through the tornado receiving only a few scratches. The storm blew the cab from over his head, but he held on.
It was announced from Washington that national headquarters of the Red Cross with its chief, resident Commissioner, had set in motion its entire machinery of mercy to the injured and homeless.
From Chicago additional nurses and physicians, assembled by Dr. Herman Engelsen, departed for southern Illinois, with medical equipment. Plans were made to raise $500,000 as Chicago's relief quota.

Beautiful Tribute To Carrie M. Smith

The following tribute to Carrie M. Smith, formerly of Dixon, who for four years was superintendent of the Girls' Industrial Home of Bloomington, was written by Mrs. Florence Pifer Bohrer (daughter of the late ex-Governor Pifer), who was a close friend and co-worker of Miss Smith, who passed away on Jan. 16.

This Board, this Home and the family it shelters have suffered a severe loss in the passing of our beloved superintendent, Miss Carrie M. Smith. As in any true, beautiful home the light seems to fail if the mother is taken, so may it be said of her going, its very spirit seemed to have fled when her great mother-heart ceased to beat.

But soon came the realization that "the good men do live after them," and no tribute to Miss Smith can ever equal in beauty and inspiration the devotion her girls, both large and small, showed to her memory as they went about their duties and added responsibilities, doing each day as nearly as possible just as they knew she would have wished.

Miss Smith came to us a stranger to this Board and to the community, when she left us there were many in Bloomington who called her friend, and there was not a member of the Board of nineteen, who had not come to realize that she was a woman of fine mind and a true heart, a character strong and with a marked capacity for mothering children, and giving to them always her most devoted, tender care.

Fortunate were the girls who came within the influence of her careful training, and how well some of us remember her eager defense of "her girls" in the face of any unjust criticism of them. Her intimate knowledge of the character of each girl and her sympathy with their longings and desires helped her to develop the best in each one.

This Home is better in every way for her having lived in it, and the life of every girl who called her "mother," which they all did, will develop into a more beautiful, useful maturity because of the example of this good and faithful woman.

While we grieve that she would not stay with us longer we are grateful to the Guiding Hand that directs all destiny, for leading her path across the threshold of this home where her name will forever be revered and held in sacred memory.

WERE GUESTS IN DIXON LAST EVENING.

Menus for a Family Tested by SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Oranges, cereal cooked with dates, broiled ham, creamed potatoes, crisp graham toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Baked macaroni with tomatoes, bran and raisin bread, maple nut cake, milk tea.

Dinner—Clear soup, Salisbury steak, twice baked potatoes, creamed carrots, endive salad, Stacie's pudding, milk, coffee, whole wheat rolls.

The broiled ham is suggested for children who go to school and need a hearty breakfast. Children under school age will find the breakfast of cereal, crisp toast and milk very nourishing and satisfying. The dates in the cereal make another fruit unnecessary. Serve orange juice and a graham bread sandwich to children at home about 10 o'clock in the morning.

Baked Macaroni with Tomatoes.

One cup macaroni broken in 1-inch lengths, 6 cups boiling water, 1 table-spoon salt, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 1 table-spoon minced onion, 2 table-spoons butter, 1½ table-spoons flour, ¼ cup grated cheese, 2 whole cloves, paprika.

Add salt to boiling water and add macaroni. Cook until tender, about 20 minutes. Drain in a strainer and pour over cold water to blanch and prevent pieces from sticking. Melt butter, add onion and cook until a pale straw color. Stir in flour and when well blended add tomatoes. Pour over cold water to blanch and prevent pieces from sticking. Rub through a coarse strainer. Put macaroni into a well buttered baking dish, pour over tomato sauce and cover with grated cheese. Sprinkle with paprika and bake 20 minutes in a hot oven.

Maple Nut Cake.

One-half cup granulated sugar, maple syrup, ¼ cup butter, 1 whole egg, 1 yolk of egg, ¼ cup sour cream, 1½ cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, few grains salt.

Measure sugar and fill cup level full with maple syrup. Mix well, add softened but not melted butter. Beat well. Sift flour before measuring and add ¼ cup to first mixture. Beat well and add eggs well beaten. Dissolve soda in cream and add to mixture. Add flour and salt and beat batter well for five minutes. Turn into two oiled and floured pans and bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Put together and cover with maple nut icing. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

Mrs. Grimes Received Flattering Mention

In a letter to a Dixon friend Mrs. M. D. Grimes of Kalamazoo, Mich., formerly of Dixon, sends a clipping from a Detroit paper telling of the success of a play given by the Ladies' Art and Literary club, considered one of the city's most talented clubs. Mrs. Grimes having been a member of this club for the past five years. The club is giving a series of plays to add to their building fund and last Monday cleared $475. Mrs. Grimes says the ladies now have the required $2500 for necessary improvements to their club house.

Mrs. Grimes received a number of beautiful bouquets the night she acted in the "Carsons." Mrs. Grimes mentions the fact that she received her first instructions in dramatic art from the late Mrs. John McKinstry at Nelson, Ill., long a resident of Dixon afterwards. She says "John Thome and Mary Brauer were in the class."

Mrs. Grimes sends a picture of the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Grimes, long time residents of Dixon with many friends here.

The article from the Detroit paper is printed below, the play being given on March 16th.

The second presentation of club plays by the Ladies' Library Association Monday afternoon in the L. L. A. building proved the success of this new departure in club programs by the large attendance and the evident pleasure in the theatricals. No doubt the organization has been a little surprised to find so much histrionic talent among its members. Although hampered by the small stage and lack of adequate stage properties they projected the character delineations most effectively.

The first play, "A Window to the South" concerned the represented longing of a farmer's wife for a south window in her kitchen. The parts were taken by Mrs. George J. Putt, Mrs. W. H. Rank, Mrs. F. G. Tift, Mrs. J. H. Bacon, Mrs. Piers, Mrs. J. A. Place, Mrs. P. M. Young and Mrs. J. H. Bussell. The symbolic significance of the theme was well presented.

The second of the plays by Mary K. Reeley, had an unusual construction, the first and last act showing present-day farm life, and the middle scenes depicting the early struggles of the "Carsons." Mrs. M. D. Grimes as "Pa Carson" gave a spirited reading of the part with a keen sense of comedy. Excellent performances were also given by Mrs. Warren H. Carlton, Mrs. U. E. Moss, Mrs. R. C. Bogue, Mrs. F. J. Bond, Mrs. P.

SUPT. BLAIR'S LITTLE SERMON.

"Arbor and Bird Days," issued by Francis G. Blair, superintendent of public instruction, is a work to delight the nature lovers. There is much in it about birds, particularly the warblers, and the ducks of the Illinois marshes. There are special stories, well selected verse, much information about trees. The brochure is profusely illustrated. Public school teachers will appreciate Mr. Blair's booklet, which was compiled by H. T. Swift. Public libraries of the state doubtless will take care to obtain a copy of it.

Dr. Blair has a foreword to the public school teachers upon whom the duty of observing Arbor and Bird days, April 17 and Oct. 23, falls. It is such good reading that the Telegraph helps pass it along:

"Blessed is the man 'who in the love of nature holds communion with her visible forms,' for unto him they will speak a various and an eloquent language.

"Blessed is the man who companions with the flowers and the trees, with the birds of the air and beasts of the field, for they will return unto him companionship and consolation in multiplied measure.

"Blessed is the man who joins with God in bringing flowers to blossom and trees to beauty and fruitage, for he shall feel within himself the unutterable joy of creation."

"Blessed is the man who cares for the birds and the beasts and provides them food and shelter, and places to live and rear their young, for he shall enter into the spirit of Him whose all-encompassing heart felt the hurt and the loss of the sparrow's fall.

"Blessed is the man who is daily baptized in the flowing streams of sunshine and air, who walks and loves the meadows and the plains, who lifts up his eyes to the mountains, who rejoices in the river and the seas;—blessed is he for his youth 'shall be renewed like the eagle's.'"

"Blessed is the man through whose blood and soul the seasons—spring and summer and autumn and winter, with bursting bud and bloom and fruitage—marches like a mighty pageant of life and death:—blessed is he for unto him it is given.

"Blessed are you, the teachers whose opportunity it is to arouse within the hearts and minds of your pupils ideas and sentiments of appreciation and love of this ever-present, all-enfolding world of nature in which they are 'to live and move and have their being,'—blessed, twice blessed are you for your work shall live after you."

CRITICISM OF JUDGES.

The Iowa supreme court reversed Judge J. C. Hume of Des Moines in a case in which he found Austin Haynes, editor of the Des Moines News, guilty of contempt of court, fined him $1 and sentenced him to one day in jail.

Haynes had been connected with farm publications and was new to the editorial chair of a daily newspaper. He said some things about Judge Hume that newspapers rarely say of judges, even if they are true.

He said Judge Hume's opinions were "filled with puerile personalities and a strained effort at humor and sensationalism, wholly unbecoming a judge." The writer said the court's opinions "remind me of the labored efforts of a village smart alec." The judge was declared to be "intoxicated by the exuberance of his own verbosity."

In reversing Judge Hume the supreme court quoted from canons of judicial ethics:

"Justice should not be molded by the individual idiosyncrasies of those who administer it. A judge should not seek to be extreme or peculiar in his judgments or spectacular or sensational in the conduct of his court. To violate this canon is to invite comment by the press. No court should expect that opinions or decisions could escape public comment."

So long as published criticism does not impede the due administration of the law, the opinion holds, "it were better we maintain the guaranty of our constitution than to undertake to compel respect by the process of contempt."

JUVENILE JUDGE AND FRIEND.

A newspaper, telling of the improvement in recent years in the handling of wayward children, describes the work of a juvenile court as follows:

"A judge of a juvenile court has to be an interpreter rather than a judge. His primary object is not to determine and punish guilt when cases of youthful waywardness come before him. It is to find a way out, to interpret, to advise, and to lend a helping hand. It is to consider social relationships as well as the nature of the child's offense. It is to look beyond the four walls of a court, to discover environmental forces which have contributed to a boy's misdemeanor. It is to answer the challenge of the child with insight and empathy."

This places a huge responsibility on the judge and on the people who choose the judge. It presents a happier outlook for children themselves, an increasingly powerful deterrent to serious youthful crime, and a school for good citizenship.

"DRUNK."

Sir James Purves-Stewart, senior physician at the Westminster Hospital, London, gives an official definition of drunkenness:

"A drunken person is one who has taken alcohol in sufficient quantity to poison his central nervous system, producing in his ordinary processes of reaction to his surroundings a temporary disorder which causes him to be a nuisance or danger to himself or others."

In other words, a man who has had "one too many."

BY CHESTER H. ROWELL.

Walter Camp, who kept himself fit and taught the rest of us how to do so, died suddenly at the comparatively youthful age of 65, while Chauncey Depew, who has eaten three generations of diners out into their graves, is still hale and hearty at 90.

The moral of which is—there isn't any. Keeping fit is good. So are the pleasures of life.

Some people can survive a hundred years of either. Some can't.

There is a tremendous boom on in Florida—may a Californian hope that it will not be as expensive to Florida as some Californian boom have been to those who reaped the immediate past profits.

Anyhow, whether with or without its reactions, it will in the long run make for new people and new money in Florida.

A more interesting speculation is the effect of the general interest in the whole south, of which this boom is merely the most visible symptom, on the desecralization of America.

The south is the next part of the country to experience a great increase of population. That means a new sort of people—northerners with contrary traditions and Europeans with less racial prejudice.

The manufacturing districts of the south have been partly "Yankeeized" already. Now the same movement of population is started toward the hitherto agricultural districts.

And simultaneously there is a great migration of negroes to the north. It eliminates all references to "wine" except the condemnatory ones.

Wine is still a mocker and strong drink is still raging, but David's "Ligon of wine" becomes a "cake of raisins" and the children of Israel, instead of "loving lagoon of wine" like to eat raisin cake.

Doubtless the "good wine" which, by Christ's definition, was such as the guests might get "well drunken" on was a large box of Sun Maid raisins.

All of which demonstrates chiefly the lack of historic perspective. The eighteenth amendment and the moral sentiment that made it possible are a modern product.

Drink may be an un-Christian sin now. But it has become so in recent years.

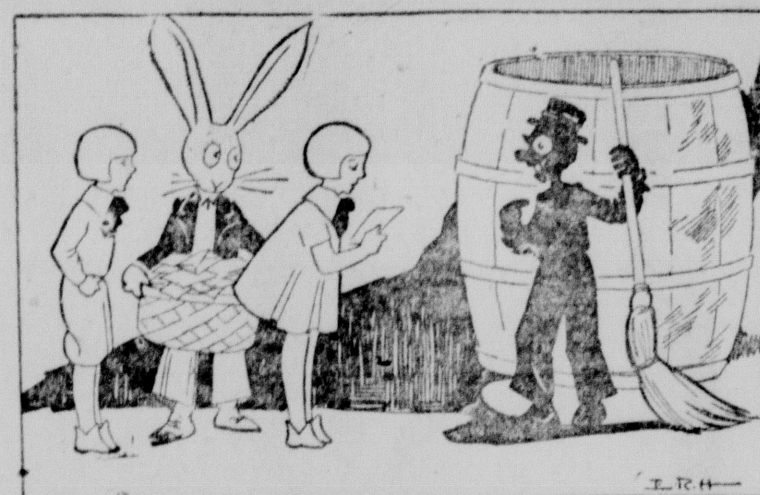

So far as the prophets, or even the founder of Christianity, are concerned, the idea of wine as necessarily a sin was still undiscovered.

The shape of the earth is at last known exactly. It is a globe a little further through across the equator than through the poles.

If it were 24 feet 8 inches through the poles, it would be 24 feet 9 inches through the equator.

These dimensions have been measured with a limit of error of not over a hundred feet.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton
NO. 11—NANCY READS SOME LETTERS

"That's enough," said Johnny. "Here's my new broom and here's me. I'm ready to do spring cleaning."

"You'd better be hurrying," said the March Hare to Johnny Sweep who was buying a new broom.

"I'm hurrying," said Johnny Sweep. "But you said you were going to read the letters the people wrote to the Fairy Queen about me."

"That's so," said the March Hare. "Please begin, Nancy."

"This one is from the Baker Man," said Nancy. "This is what he says: 'Dear Fairy Queen: If the Chimney Sweep doesn't come around to my bake shop pretty soon, there is going to be trouble. It's been a long cold winter and I have had an extra lot of baking to do besides.'"

"So you see my big chimney is chock full of soot," said the March Hare.

"When I take my cakes out of the oven they all look like chocolate cakes, the soot comes down so—so please tell Johnny Sweep that if he doesn't come around soon I won't make him any more waffles with powdered sugar on them."

"Your sooty friend," said the March Hare.

"The Baker Man," said Johnny Sweep. "I'll go there first," he said. "The Baker Man pays me in waffles. It's much better than money. As long as one has something to eat and a barrel to live in, what good is money? Especially when I never wear new clothes. What's the next letter?"

"It's from The Maid in the Garden," said Nancy.

"Read it, please," said the March Hare.

"Dear Fairy Queen: Where is that little rascal, Johnny Sweep? The Queen says to tell you—the king says, too—that every single chimney in the palace is stuffed up with soot."

And at the same time a new star has been measured which the dispatches tell us is 50,000 times the size of the earth.

The fact is that it is 27,000,000,000,000 times the size of the earth. Twenty-seven thousand billion earths to make this one star.

And Man, a tiny microbe crawling in this atomic earth, measures it!

THE WRONG WAY TO LOOK AT IT

The newest version of the Bible eliminates all references to "wine" except the condemnatory ones.

Wine is still a mocker and strong drink is still raging, but David's "Ligon of wine" becomes a "cake of raisins" and the children of Israel, instead of "loving lagoon of wine" like to eat raisin cake.

Doubtless the "good wine" which, by Christ's definition, was such as the guests might get "well drunken" on was a large box of Sun Maid raisins.

Half the world is half asleep

It is terrible to feel all day long as if one were in a constant state of weariness. Yet thousands do, because constipation is destroying their energy—even their interest in life. Only Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings sure and safe relief from this disease.

Betty was the office mystery. Once pretty, her beauty now lay masked behind an unwholesome complexion. Once vivacious, she now seemed eternally tired—a drooping figure of disappointment and dismay. Too bad she didn't realize that it was constipation which was stealing her strength.

But many men and women rid themselves forever of this devastating disease, by the simple, pleasant means of eating two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—or in chronic cases, with every meal.

As Kellogg's ALL-BRAN journeys through the system, its fiber remains unchanged. It is what doctors call a bulk food—a bulk food which sweeps the intestine clean—a bulk food which absorbs and carries moisture through the intestinal tract, stimulating natural, healthy action. Something habit-forming pills and drugs can never do.

Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, sprinkled over cereals; cooked with hot cereals; in soups, or made into the many recipes given on the package. Delicious with fruit, baked apple, etc.

Caution: Only ALL-BRAN brings sure results. A part-bran product can only be partially effective. Kellogg's is the one, only and original ALL-BRAN. All grocers sell it. Buy a package today. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. Served in leading restaurants and hotels.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

BY AHERN

"John, dear: Thank you so much for making such lovely arrangements for me. Perhaps I was a little impatient this morning, but Miss Anderson says you are very much worried over business."

"Yes, I will stay in Atlantic City until I hear from you and then will come on to Pittsburgh. You know, I have not seen the new baby."

"Goodby, dear. Don't work too hard. Miss Anderson says you instructed her to get rooms for us at the Traymore. That will be very interesting. I like to see beautiful dresses and eat good food you know."

"Yes, Miss Anderson has told me, and I may wire Mrs. Atherton if I find my wardrobe insufficient. I think, however, I have enough for the present as I have done a great deal of shopping in New York, the bills of which I have had sent to you. Goodby. Don't work too hard."

Order Sent to Desk Clerk by John Alden Prescott, Room 390, The Waldorf.

"Please have my bill ready. I am checking out after breakfast this morning. Get a chair for me and a ticket to Albany on the 10:10 train. You can send up for my baggage."

"I wish you would persuade Mother, Miss Anderson, to go to Atlantic City without me today. I know, of course, that she has been terribly disappointed over the changing of the plans, but I think she will be all right when she finds that I want you to take her without me."

"You'll do your best. Then I know I will be all right, and after you have persuaded her to go call me up and tell me so that I need not be worried about her. I am sending you by messenger $100 for any incidental expenses you may have and you can wire my secretary Mrs. Atherton, in Pittsburgh, if at any time you should need more money."

"Yes, take her to the best hotel. All I want you to do is to keep her so busy that she will forget all about me and my affairs. I have troubles enough of my own just at present."

"Thank you very much, Miss Anderson. I shall expect to hear from you shortly for I am leaving the hotel in the morning."

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

FRIDAY

God's Chosen One

Read Lk. 9:28-36. Text: 9:35

This is my Son, my chosen; hear ye him.

MEDITATION—Jesus Christ embodied in his life and teachings the supreme purpose of God for men.

The law and the prophets found fulfillment in him. Henceforth men need not search in vain to know what is right, they are to "Look to Jesus" and to shape their lives by him.

To recognize in Jesus of Nazareth the Son of God, the Saviour of mankind, is to receive a pledge of the absolute and unutterable help of God in bearing all burdens, in meeting all temptations, in solving all human problems. To know

Christ is to come into living relationship with help in exhaustion.

The moral vigor, the confident as-urance, the unquenchable hope are bequeathed by this firm faith. Look up, then, with eager expectant faith to Jesus Christ, Son of man and Son of God. The representative Man on earth, the Eternal prototype of the

Being of God.

PRAYER—Our Father, God, we would hear thy voice and know thy meaning. Let us share in thy love.

May we ever be thankful for thy

Son, our Lord and in all our ways follow his life and his truth. Amen.

OGLE LIVESTOCK ASSOCIATIONS TO FORM CO. UNION

Preliminary Plans Were Discussed at Meeting Recently

Oregon—Ogle County Cooperative Livestock Shipping Associations are considering a plan for forming a county federation of the local associations in order to give them a central organization for conducting business that concerns the county as a whole. At a meeting called by the Farm Bureau Thursday, March 12, at the Ogle County Court House the plan was presented to 35 directors, officers and managers who represented nine local shipping associations and was frankly discussed pro and con.

Wm. E. Hedgcock, Director of the Livestock Marketing Department of the Illinois Agricultural Association addressed the meeting and gave the men his impressions and experiences from his trip in several Central Western states where he investigated shipping association on conditions and methods of management. It was his opinion that a county organization would give the local associations greater cooperative strength and a better understanding of their common problems as well as to make it possible for the Farm Bureau to render greater service to the farmers of the county in livestock marketing.

Farm Adviser, Warren, points out that this plan of federation does not require a county manager or the addition of any expense to the local associations or any change in the present method of handling the business. It is merely a means by which the members may become informed of the successful methods used in other associations and may become uniformly more efficient in their local service and by which also they may gain enthusiasm for the cooperative movement by meeting in larger groups and getting the view points of a larger number of shippers.

Uniform systems of record keeping were also discussed at the meeting, and it was advocated that comparative analyses be made of the records of the associations of the county to show the good points of management in the different associations. Each of the local associations is to appoint a member of a central committee who will make such plans as they shall see fit for a county federation of shipping associations. These plans will then be presented to each local for approval before any central organization is found.

It's the flavor

That won the world to this quick breakfast. Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes—get Quick Quaker.

FROM "Mrs. O'Grady to the Judge's lady," all the world has turned to a new breakfast delight. It's Quick Quaker, the new Quaker Oats that cooks in 3 to 5 minutes—quicker, in fact, than toast. But the real secret is a marvelous, rich flavor... the creamy deliciousness that's exclusively Quaker. For the great adventure in a quick breakfast, say "Quick Quaker" today. Then watch the family smile at breakfast tomorrow.

Look for the Quaker on the label
That means Quaker flavor—the "hot oats and milk" breakfasts doctors are urging—in 3 to 5 minutes. That means the superfine oats you want—the finest grown, the most delicious in all the world.

Important Foods

After milk another important food is derived from grain products, Mrs. Mann learned.

Bread, cereals of all kinds, macaroni and rice. All are high in energy, and yield a large amount of working power.

The man who does heavy work, the athlete, the child that is very active, should have generous amounts of grain products at every meal. These foods will prevent the body from burning its own tissues. They are easily digested and quickly available.

The wise cook will prepare these foods in various ways to keep them palatable. This may be done by preparing mush for breakfast, soups for luncheon, puddings for dinner, also breads, cookies and cakes for all meals.

Where the whole grain is used the products have most food value. Such are oat meal, whole wheat, graham flour, brown rice and unbolited corn meal.

In the refining of flour and the polishing of rice, the outside coating is removed and with it most of vitamin B.

The part remaining is still valuable for energy, but when used great care should be taken to see that the meal is supplemented with some vegetable, containing mineral.

Life is a gamble. The cards you catch are no good unless you watch how to play them.

This Week's Story
There is a story of a bridegroom who requested his bride to accompany him into the garden a day or two after their wedding. He then threw a line over the roof of the cottage, giving his wife one end of it he repeated to the other side and exclaimed: "Pull the line." She pulled at his request as hard as she could. He cried: "Pull it over." "I can't," she replied. "Pull with all your might!" shouted the whimsical husband, but in vain were all the efforts of the bride to pull the line over, so long as the husband held on the other end. But when he came around and they both pulled at one end it came over with great ease. "There," said he, as the line fell from the roof. "You see how hard and ineffectual was our labour when we pulled in opposition to each other, but how easy and pleasant it is when we both pull together. It will be so my dear, through life. If we oppose each other, it will be hard work. If we act together it will be pleasant to live. Let us, therefore, always pull together. Let us daily endeavour to help one another to bear and forebear with each other."

A HART-PARR needs no rest You can work this sturdy tractor day and night

With tireless HART-PARR power you can do more in a day than you ever did before. No more slow, shallow plowing to make it easier for your horses. No more wasted minutes while you rest them. The HART-PARR does most jobs better than horses—in less time and at much lower cost.

Just think of the ways in which a HART-PARR can lighten the burden of your work. In the spring it will do your plowing, discing and seeding much faster than horses. In the fall it will speed up your threshing, harvesting, husking, shredding and silo filling. And in winter it will shell corn, grind feed and saw wood.

The HART-PARR is surplus-powered to meet every emergency. It will work day and night to save your crops or get your plowing done in season. The HART-PARR costs little to operate and nothing to maintain when not in use. Repairs are seldom necessary, as HART-PARRS are built to last. Many 24 years old are still in successful operation.

This economical kerosene-burning tractor comes in three sizes, for the small, medium and large farm. We are now showing the improved models, with enclosed drive, disc clutch, detachable power take-off and greatly increased power for belt and field work. Ask us for a demonstration on your farm.

We want you to have this instructive book on the economy of power farming. It tells you how to increase your acreage, raise bigger crops and make greater profits.
